Fife College Association Scholarship

► Former staff members of Fife College have continued to generously support our current students through fundraising at their events and donating the proceeds to the College's Adam Smith Scholarship fund. This support has been ongoing since 2016, playing a crucial role in investing in a brighter future for our students.

This year the Association were able to support two very deserving students with their studies; HNC: Professional Cookery (Patisserie) student, Courtney Marshall and HNC: Professional Cookery student Rolando Senen.

Rolando said: "Winning this scholarship is a huge achievement for me. It recognizes my dedication to cooking and helps me financially, allowing me to focus more on enhancing my skills. I plan to use the scholarship money to buy professional cookery books, which are essential for refining my techniques and expanding my culinary knowledge. This support greatly encourages my dream of becoming a professional chef and inspires me to explore innovative ideas in the kitchen."
